Learning equal . . . but excel

Now more than ever the spirit of learning is increasingly significant to the youth of America. As citizens of a free and democratic nation, we of Jordan High School must strive to exemplify this spirit now and in the coming decades. In a progressive world of new ideas and varying beliefs, we must answer the challenges placed before us in an intelligent and unselfish manner. If we are to succeed, we must realize the intensity of these challenges in relation to our and subsequent generations. As these challenges are met and surmounted we shall appreciate the value of education and its force in dealing with the problems of the world, and, in not too long a time, those of the universe. Consequently, to survive in this complex and changing world, our ideals demand of us that we must strive not to equal . . . . but excel.

FOREWORD

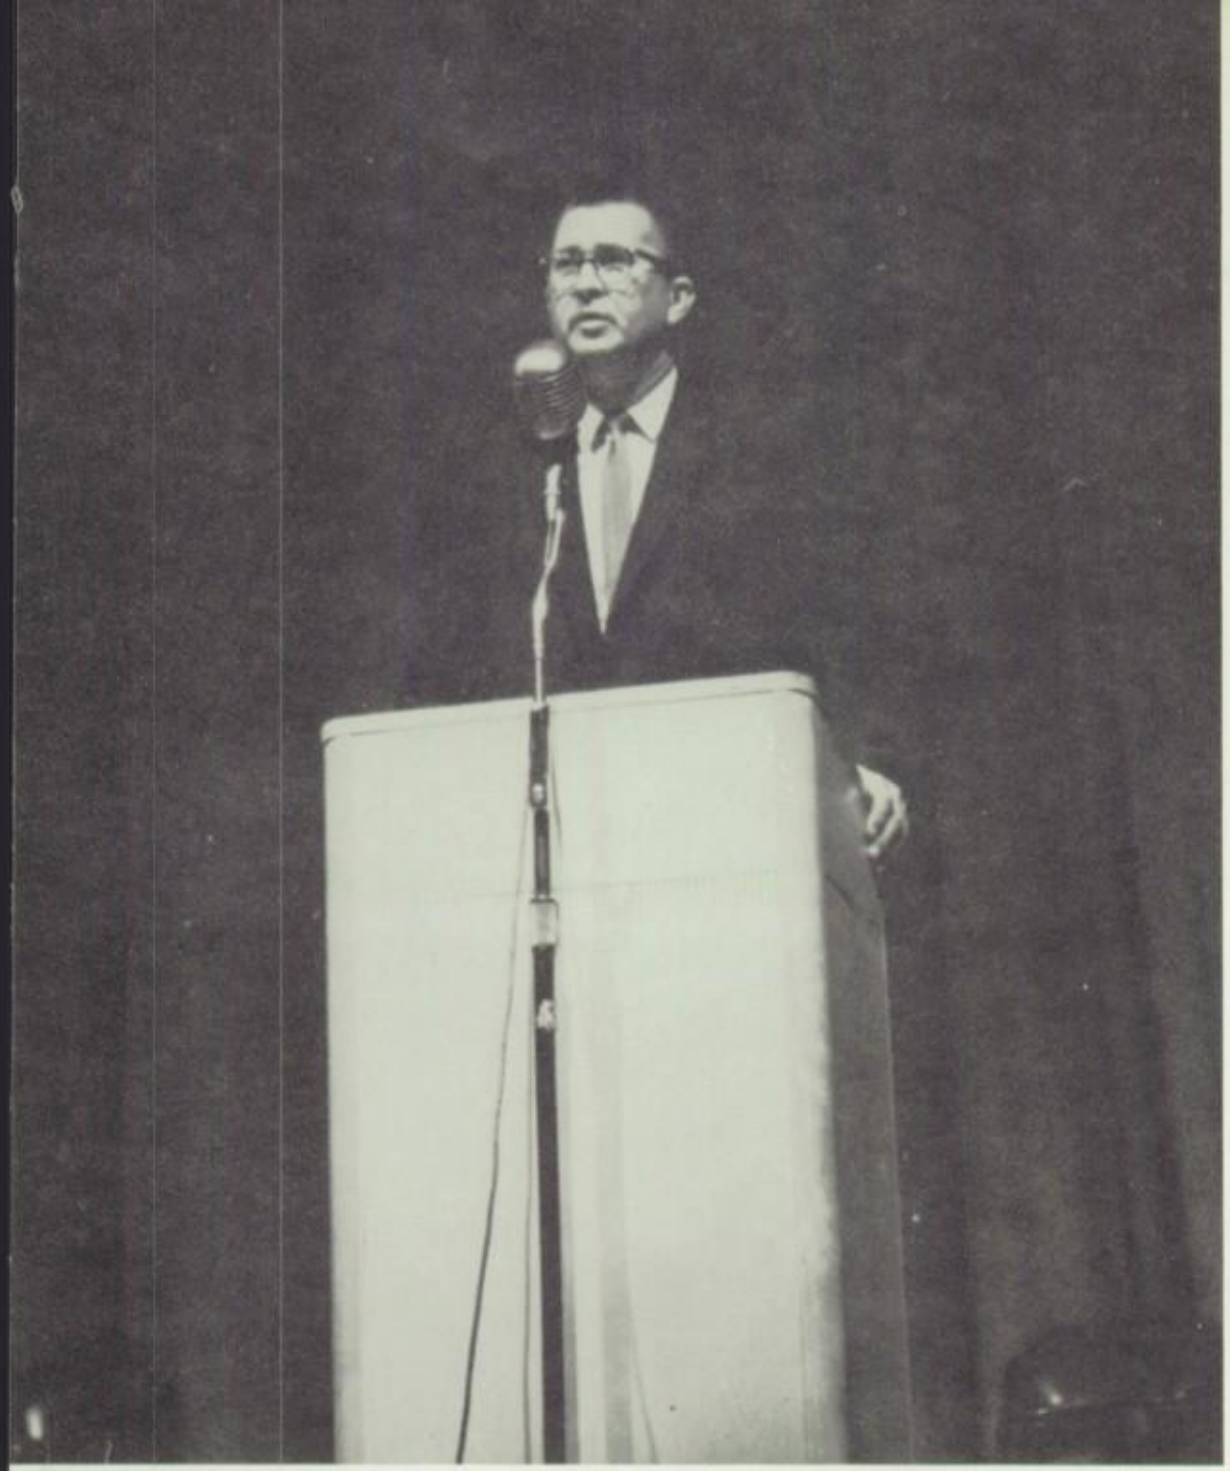
To a great extent the progress of education today depends upon the attitude of the students attending our public schools, state colleges, and universities. We realize that a sincere interest in learning is a prerequisite for the attainment of higher academic standards throughout the nation. At Jordan High School we are proud to be a part of an educational system that strives for the betterment of individuals through the knowledge we gain in our daily classes. Our school gives us the advantages and opportunities to exhibit this knowledge through activities, both social and academic. Certainly creativeness, self-discipline, and determination are some of the ingredients that have enabled the students of Jordan High School to progress in the past, and will undoubtedly assist the graduates this year as they face the problems of the next decade.

It is with pleasure and appreciation that the Trailblazer Staff and Student Body of Jordan High School dedicate this 1962 Trailblazer to our Director of Activities, Mr. Robert Dixon. Through his concern for others and his warm understanding of people he has earned the respect and gratitude of each student. Mr. Dixon, we, the students and faculty, want to congratulate and thank you for contributing so much to our school.



Sincere dedication . . .

Better Education — The Challenge of the Sixties

Some of our leading educators are concerned that current efforts to improve the education of young people may not yield the expected results. In recent years impressive strides have been made in improving school building design and construction; new and improved instructional materials have been provided in greater quantity and better quality. The status of teachers has steadily improved and important steps have been taken to upgrade the preparation of teachers; curriculum developments have resulted in dramatic revisions of the teaching methods employed and the content of subjects offered in our schools.

This list of essential ingredients for good schools is incomplete. What about the learners? Unless students themselves personally accept the challenge of improved educational opportunities, it is doubtful that any significant gains will be achieved. The student of tomorrow will accept personal responsibility and initiative for directing his own educational development and for achieving the very best scholarship of which he is capable.

Faced with the threat of international aggression, our nation has included two major purposes for education in "the sixties": (1) the benefits which personally accrue to the individuals who are educated, and (2) the benefits which are planned to assure our nation's strength and security. Therefore, a moral obligation to achieve one's best rests directly on the shoulders of every student in the Public Schools of the United States. Will America's youth rise to this challenge? Do our young people have the moral integrity, the relentless desire, and limitless energy to achieve what their elders did not? Are you, the students of today to join the complacent ranks of the past who have taken education for granted, or will you join the swelling wave of the students of the future who "expect-and-exact-the-best" that this country has to offer in the way of schooling for personal gain and for national security?

The National Honor Society was established by the National Association of Secondary School Principals in order to encourage and recognize character, scholarship, leadership, and service among high school students. A chapter was chartered at Jordan High School in 1959 and since then students who meet the high scholastic, character, service, and leadership qualifications have been elected to membership. Currently Jordan has twenty-four members selected from the junior and senior classes. A permanent National Honor Society plaque hangs in the office with the current names posted thereon. Jordan High School is proud of the outstanding students who are members of the National Honor Society.

California Scholastic Federation

The California Scholastic Federation is an honorary organization basically formed to encourage good scholarship in the high schools. In order to become a member, ten points must be earned in all classes excluding Physical Education. Five of these points must be acquired from three academic or prepared subjects with an "A" valued at three points, and "B" one point. In addition, satisfactory citizenship must be maintained.

Any student achieving membership four times in C.S.F. with at least one semester as a senior automatically qualifies for life membership as a Sealbearer. Many scholarships are made available to Sealbearers for this accomplishment.

American Field Service

MARIA SOLER
Foreign Exchange Student from Argentina

MYNA HASTINGS
Foreign Exchange Student to Germany

The American Field Service occupies a special place in the hearts of Jordan students. We have participated in the exchange student program for many years. Each year the students have shown their support through the purchase of "a share of international understanding and friendship." These purchases have enabled us to bring students from abroad to study at Jordan and take part in our various activities. This money also helps defray the expenses of sending a Jordan student to a foreign country where he becomes an active participant in their way of life.

The American Field Service contributes much to promote a better understanding between the peoples of the world. We hope that this wonderful program will continue for many years to come.

The week is culminated by the inauguration of the governor and other elected State officials and a trip to the Capitol.

Hi - Teen Canteen

MRS. JESSIE JONES: Canteen Director

JORDAN HI-TEEN CANTEEN, organized and operated by and for youth, with adult supervision, was first opened in June 1944. It has been in constant operation since that time, thus making it one of the oldest, if not, the oldest youth club in the United States.

In April 1960, the Canteen moved into the present beautiful new building. We feel the Canteen has proved its worth in providing wholesome recreation for the Jordan students.

Activities include dancing, television, pool, ping pong, and small games, such as chess and checkers. Several band dances are held each year, as well as fun or sports nights, when the gymnasiums are open for volleyball, basketball, and other games of this type.

Mrs. Jessie Jones, our kind and generous director since June 1948, is on duty each time the club is open. A faculty sponsor, Mr. Kenneth Heath, and an assistant recreation director, Mr. Jimmie Cleaver, are on duty each evening.

Marching Band

From the opening of school in the fall to Commencement in June, the Jordan Band takes part in many activities both on and off campus, such as football and basketball games, assemblies, the Milk Bowl game, the Rose Parade, and many others. Not only does the Band do a good job musically, but their appearance alsô is outstanding. The snappy blue and white West Point style uniforms and the combined effort and enthusiasm make Jordan's Band one of the sharpest in our area.

"$500,000 should come in handy, Father."

The fall production of the Jordan Advanced Dramatics Class was Sabrina Fair, a four-act romantic comedy by Samuel Taylor. Originally scheduled for a two-night run, the play was overwhelmingly supported by the student body and extended its run for two additional command performances. Mr. Meline and his stage crew created an effective setting for the Broadway production. Center staging the performance proved challenging to the Thespians and gave the audience a unique feeling of participation. To give the maximum number of students an opportunity to perform, the play was double cast. Many thanks to the administrators, faculty, and students who made this play a success.

Renewing old acquaintances.

The Alumni Association this year was led by President Don Regas and President-Elect Mickey Williams. They planned a full day of activities on Homecoming Day for the graduates of Jordan. The happy ex-Jordanites spent their day visiting their former teachers, looking over the campus, having lunch in the cafeteria, comparing their babies, and attending a pep assembly.

Homecoming night was topped off with a reunion dinner for the Class of 1961 and a football game against Poly.

This year our varsity football team was very light and inexperienced since we had only six returning lettermen from last season. Jordan Water Polo, while not showing a good win record for 1961, has shown an unequaled team spirit. In the words of head coach Spud Higgins, "this has been a building year for Jordan." With the loss of only two seniors from the 1961 Varsity Squad, the 1962 season may lead Jordan to a Moore League Championship.

Fred,
We've had a lot of fun this year. I'm so glad you're back for this year and I'm sorry you missed last year. I remember in 8th grade Reece's room was next door to Mr. Fleming's room. I remember how we used to pass notes back and forth. I'm sure glad we're friends. I'm sorry I wasn't very nice to you sometimes. Maybe I'll be nicer this year. Have a happy birthday and a wonderful year. Love, Mary Beth

(Remember when we used to pass notes back and forth? Isn't it funny how we've grown closer? I'm glad we're friends. I'm sorry I wasn't very nice to you sometimes. Maybe I'll be nicer this year. Have a happy birthday and a wonderful year. Love, Mary Beth P.S. I'm glad God brought us together in 8th grade!)

BACKWARDS WEEK

One of the most anticipated events during Jordan's school year is the traditional Backwards Week. At this time Jordan females reciprocate all the little courtesies showered on them during the year by the Jordan males.

The week is culminated by a dance sponsored by the Girls' League, at which the girls pay all the bills. The decorations at the dance enhance the theme of "Carnival Time in Dog Patch." The highlight of this outstanding festivity is the crowning of Daisy Mae and L'il Abner. This year the honors went to Betty Aronson and Steve Regier.

"Step aside, girls!"

Sdrawkcab Keew Activities

The latest thing in overland travel.

"This type of portable bench should be issued to each senior male," says Tom Commeau.

Mrs. Cortright presents ribbons to Jim Stratton, Alan Kas, and an unidentified visitor from another school.

"Ruffy Routt" tells 'em how.

A couple dancing to the music of the Starlighters give evidence to the latest trends in the classical minuet.

Spring Sing

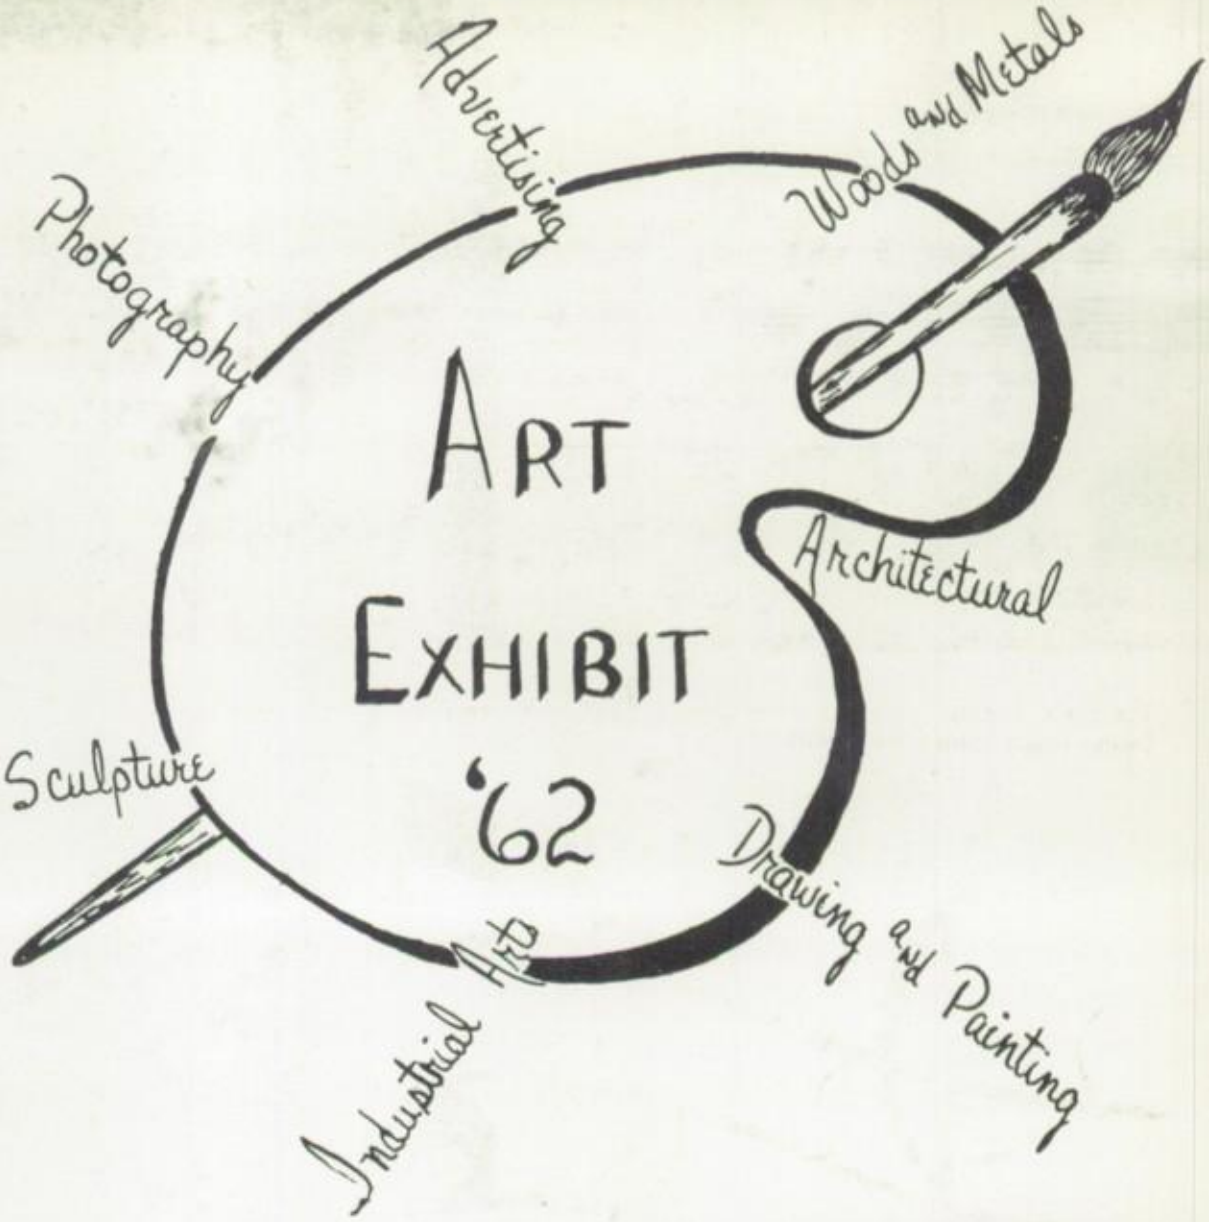
The Boys' League provided entertainment with their version of "Tom Dooley." Tom Robbins and Ken Endter accompanied the group.

Mr. Dixon (see legs, right center), is mobbed by his fan club after crooning a few oldies.

This year various Jordan clubs presented one of our finest Spring Sings. Each organization presented at least two numbers, which added to the variety of the entire program. Awards were given in the following categories: Anchor Club, Sweepstakes; Tamana, Best Music; and National Honor Society, Best Novelty.

The Strawhatters rehearse a hot one before taking the stage.

Hazel Bruce looks at Ron Lester's display.



Dr. George E. Dotson, Assistant Superintendent of Schools, discusses the Art Exhibit with Miss Poultney at an informal reception.

Three Act Play

Anne Frank and her mother have one of their frequent quarrels about the trials and tribulations of adolescence.

Anne Frank, a young girl of 12, writes in her diary telling of her experiences during World War II.

The cast of Thursday afternoon and Friday night consisted of the following students: Pat Hartnett; Jeff Hilton; Mark Troy; John Rice; Karen Joyal; Lesley Webster; Chuck Ryon and Mr. Alberico, director.

Anne is hysterical as she has nightmares about the Germans taking them away. Mrs. Frank is trying to comfort her, while Mr. Dussel is unhappy about his rude awakening.

"The Diary of Anne Frank"

Mr. Frank dances around the room with Anne in an attempt to boost her morale.

The cast of Thursday and Saturday nights were as follows: Pinkie Pilkington; Don Williams; Billie Galloway; Larry Allotta; Ron Shelling; Sammye Crawford; Mr. Alberico, director; Georgia Duewel; Fred Stokes; Patty Gordon and Larry Mowles.

Jamboree

Gloria Washington sings "I'll Take Romance," as Mr. Bartkus conducts the Jordan Band.

Tau Moe excites the Jamboree audience with his fire dance.

Showbiz - 20th Century

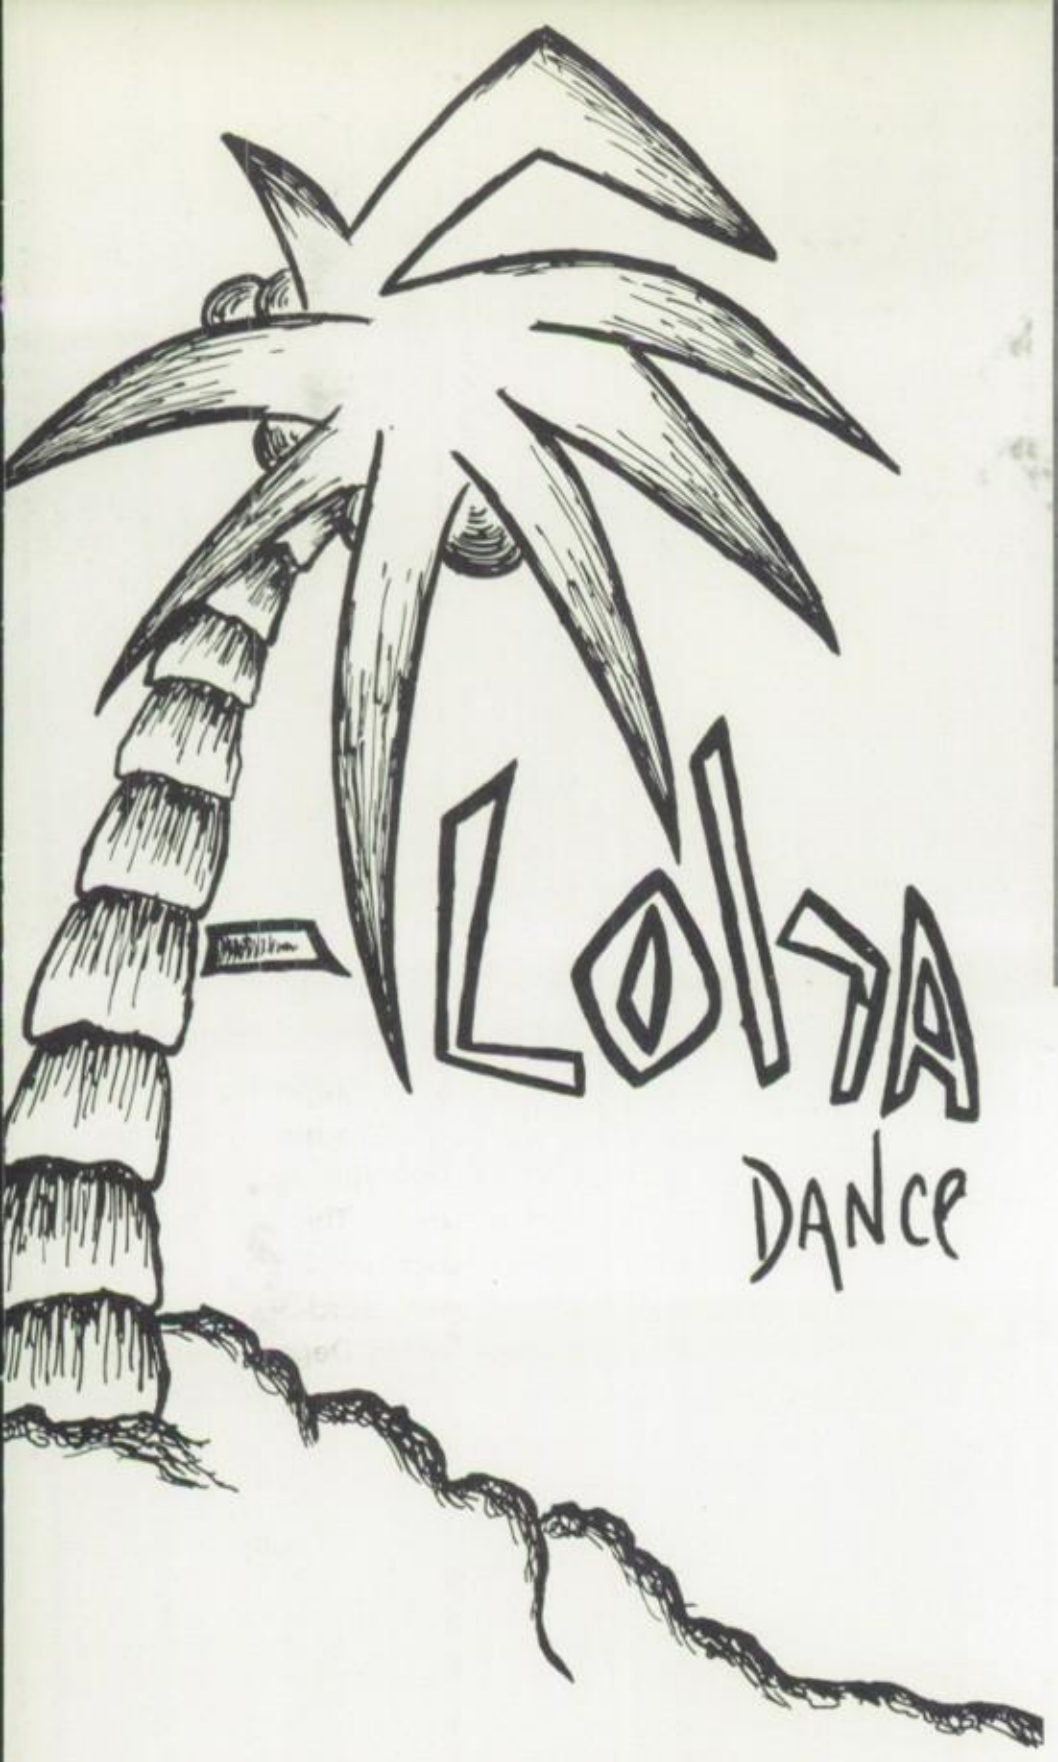
The Jordan Jamboree highlighted the on-stage activities for the year. Groups of all types enhanced this yearly event with fine performances and a variety of acts. The faculty presented a skit entitled, "Scoopy Scales," while The Esquires, The Barbettes, Jordan Gymnasts, and the entire Jordan Music Department presented numbers ranging from "New Orleans Memories" to "Wunderbar."

The Modern Dance class, under the guidance of Mrs. Rhodes, gave a fine performance for the Jamboree first-nighters.



The natives are more than restless!

Cool music . . . sounds of the beach . . Aloha . . .

Signing in for pleasure.

The Keith Williams Quintet provided very fine music for this special occasion.

The French cafe area gave a European atmosphere to the prom.

Junior Senior Prom

Stairway to the Stars

The Junior Class sponsored the prom, and it was considered one of the most exciting events of the year. Everyone seemed to enjoy themselves as they danced beneath a backdrop of "The Stairway to the Stars."

Murrel and Jack seem to be cracking-up as they enjoy their ham, pancakes, and orange juice.

Again this year the senior class enjoyed an early breakfast at Houghton Park. The faculty and administration did all the cooking and serving for the first event of the seniors' last day at Jordan. The food for the breakfast was graciously donated by Cole's Markets.

Senior Breakfast

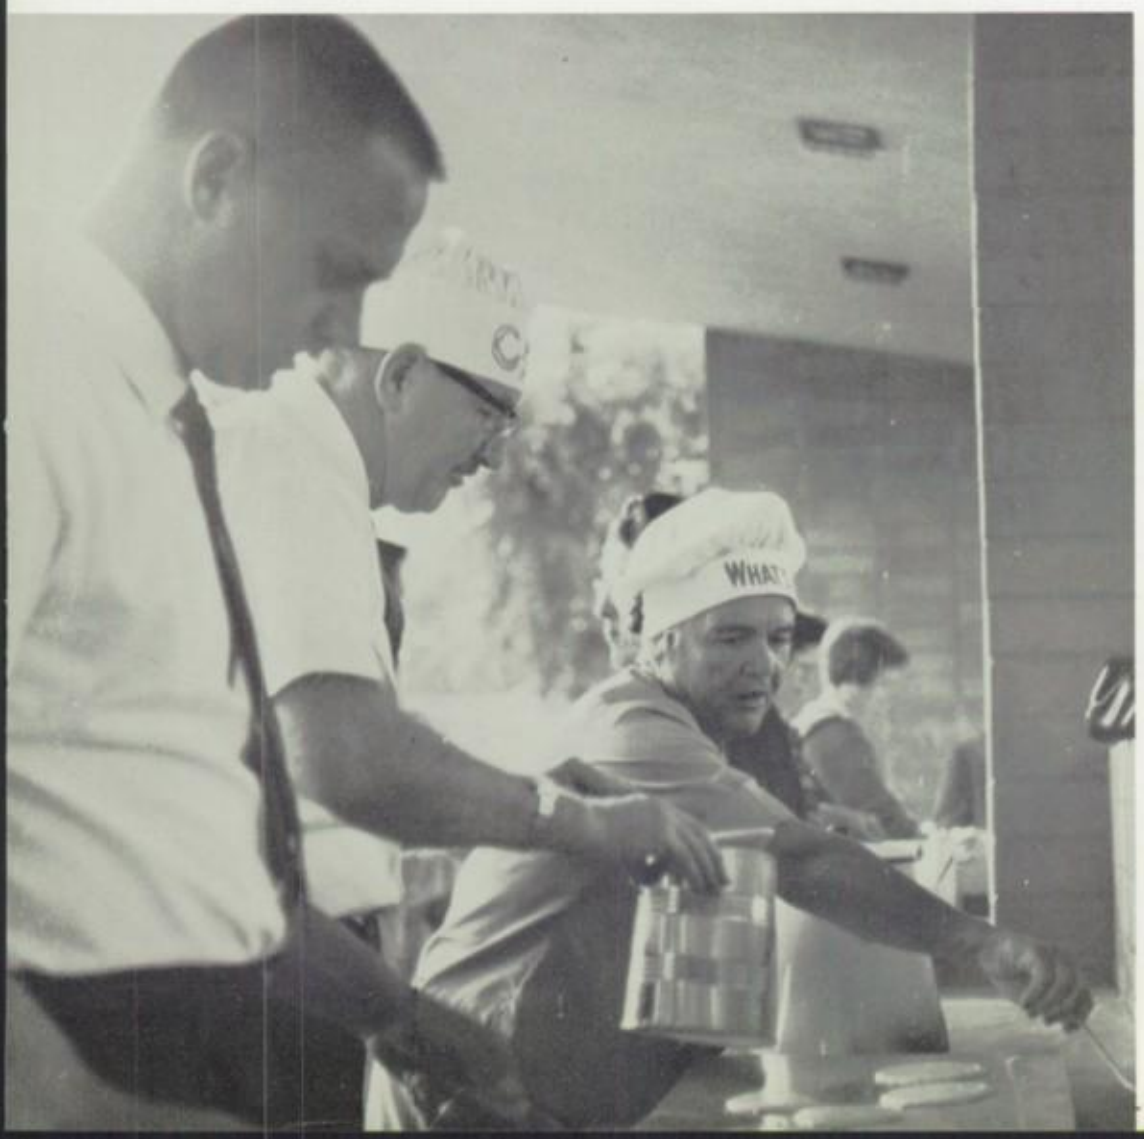
Miss Poultney, Mr. Meline, and Mr. Mertz—chefs a la Jordan!



"Pancakes and ham! Oh no! I've got to watch those calories."

Barbara Robinson, John Hansen, and Janice Kuester present the Candlelight Service.

Seniors wait anxiously for the processional music.

The Recessional ended a beautiful Vespers program.

The A Cappella Choir, under the direction of Mr. Robertson, sing "Glory to God."

Vespers Services

Commencement

Five hundred and fifty seniors received diplomas during graduation exercises in the Jordan Memorial Stadium. Five thousand parents and guests joined school officials in honoring the graduates. Jack Corcoran, Student Body President, welcomed visitors on behalf of the graduating class. The keynote speech, delivered by W. Odie Wright, Deputy Superintendent of Schools, advised seniors of the opportunities which await them.

Dr. Spager presents a diploma to a happy senior girl.

The Junior Guards of Honor present a most beautiful picture to add to the graduation ceremonies.
